

Sexual & Emotional Healer Mastery Mentorship

---

Become a master of Sexual and/or Emotional Health & Wellness, Healing and Enlightenment for you or your clients.

Program Details & More Information

January, 2012

Are you an energy, life or transformational coach and healer who could use even more of a cutting-edge advantage in the market to get more clients, referrals and success?

Or could you really use some legendary personal growth for your own life?

As you know, the world is changing. There really is a shift in consciousness that is occurring globally. New opportunities are being formed if you're interested in helping others evolve and transform through these times and beyond the limitations of the past and their own ego.

Baby boomers are retiring yet still seeking answers and more fulfillment. Millions of Westerners are discovering more about Spirituality and their Greater Self; that they are more than their ego. They are 'hearing' that happiness is within and not yet really experiencing it (except through years of consumer diversion and 'escape' from self).

There is a strong need for release from pain; psychological, sexual and emotional blocks, issues, oppression, traumas and baggage; issues which many have diverted and have kept in the closet, repressed for years or decades.

There is a desire to increase their quality of life while stepping into creative possibility, happiness and personal freedom in addition to just professional success. They want to have real change that works without hearing more of the same positive mental thinking rhetoric.

With all of the confusing messages out there, your potential clients will be looking towards real world experts more than ever in 2012 to help guide them through these times and help them with the personal changes they desire.

A younger generation of millennials is really coming forward who could use advanced yet user-friendly training to mold, develop and apply their own talents to help meet these desires of their peers and the generations before them in 2012 and beyond.

This is the BEST time ever to become an energy or transformational coach and start your own business IF you're someone with enough value to give others improve their lives dramatically in the areas of healing, releasing, transformation, personal and spiritual growth or relationships.

Now would be the time to establish your footing or expand your influence as we go into 2012. New leaders and experts are emerging.

And if you're already a coach in this now $2billion industry, you probably have a desire to stay on the competitive edge now more than ever; to stand out and really make a name for yourself while giving more value to more people. You'd probably also want to expand your own journey into living in new heights of reality.

If you're a Western coach, you're probably looking for powerful new tools and techniques as well as bridges for your clients to experience higher transformation without them necessarily having to become a shaman or monk themselves.

With such a large focus on Spirituality, there is a lot of competition and yes opportunity if you're already advanced on that level. But there's a new opportunity that is emerging within all of this; two great and yet unfulfilled prime areas of energy work that clients could use healing with.

As you know, Spirituality is just one aspect of life and your clients have issues, limitations, and blocks on other levels of consciousness in their daily life. Much of the issues people are practically dealing with and want resolution in are non-physical issues of health & wellness that extend in the emotional and mental realm; often even moreso than spiritual.

In fact many of your potential clients may NOT be ready for a Spiritual journey when you look at more of the baby boomers because they still have massive emotional blocks or trauma for example. There are other issues blocking them in different areas of consciousness that are holding them back from their evolution.

Until they are more advanced themselves, there is something that is more relevant to most of their daily lives in which tremendous transformation can simply take place.

And this is with their emotional and sexual consciousness, health and wellness; their feelings, emotional and sexual experience of reality. These energies are more down to earth and reside primarily in the Heart Chakra and below.

These are a different experience than pure zen meditation or the benefits of yoga in the lives of your clients.

With such a focus on Spirituality and the big 'gap' between ego-valuing Westerners (and many of your potential clients) and pure Spirituality, many of the upcoming clients aren't ready to make that leap unless there were additional bridges (and more healing).

Becoming an expert in the non-physicality of Heart and Sexual consciousness, wellness and transformation would give you many new bridges for your clients and will help differentiate you from all of your competition (many teaching the same things or not being conscious enough themselves in these areas of energy).

Strangely enough, despite the HUGE unmet desires emotionally and sexually of Westerners when it comes to health, wellness, healing and quality of life; there are very few Heart or Sexual energy coaches of very high and experienced consciousness to provide healing and transformation on those levels in the West.

These may have something to do with the Western valuation of 'mind' as self and ironically the Eastern 'Soul'-valuation and identification of self which unfortunately has a byproduct effect of second-rating sexual and heart consciousness; that which is still so vital to living, healing, attraction, wellness, health, inspiration, happiness and quality of life.

Spiritual and mental tools can be used but aren't directly effective with client's emotional and sexual blocks; especially if the healer isn't very conscious in those areas directly. Again, they are simply different types of conscious energy than pure spiritual so by becoming a master in sexual or emotional energy, you have even more healing power.

What you're seeing is perhaps the greatest opportunity of all in this new market and the evolution of personal growth itself; to stand out as a Heart or Sexual authority and expert (in addition to Spiritual) in the $2 billion coaching industry.

This isn't just to use some tools that crossover into that area but to REALLY have the power to heal and transform your clients in those non-physical areas of health & wellness directly!

Could that be valuable in your skillset? If you were one of the forefront experts in Heart or Sexual consciousness, healing, health & wellness and enlightenment in the West?

And to be an expert in 2012 at the forefront of this emerging sub-industry could be one of the smartest moves you could make as the wellness industry inevitably will expand into more of the higher conscious and non-physical realms. And people realize that their wellness and health is comprised of more than just their physical/body, soul or mental health.

Sexual and Emotional are their own USP's (Unique Selling Propositions) too that can help you differentiate yourself from legions of spiritual experts or light workers, even if you already are one.

Think it's the same as working with spiritual energy? Think again! In fact, don't think at all; it really is a different 'brand' of conscious energy and you have to work with it in different ways that you most likely haven't experienced yet.

And even if your clients aren't ready to face their own Heart or Sexiness or even to value it, you'll be able to work with them IN those areas for them to experience levels of invaluable healing and transformation that were not otherwise possible with a mind-based or other approach. This gets you more of what you want out of life; more clients, doing more good, more healing, professional success and more fulfillment.

As you know, higher consciousness in any area is the ability to resolve all of those kinds of problems and issues; to transform their experience. Emotional issues should ideally be met with emotional tools and energy; sexual with sexual tools, consciousness and energy.

Do that and you'll be able to keep delivering massive value to your clients because you'll be able to cater to their circumstances.

Fortunately, the healing and spirituality of Heart and Sexiness provides an entire new area of expertise, value and OPPORTUNITY to transform the lives of your future clients (as well as yourself) if you had the proper training and immersion (and before it becomes the new 'hot thing' in personal growth).

It would really give you a competitive edge to help heal and transform your clients more powerfully on those levels emotionally and sexually, wouldn't it?

How about into 2012 when people are even more serious about personal transformation in areas beyond just physical health & fitness? Can you see that trend coming and how you can fit in? I can and it's FRICKING HUGE.

Millions of us have no clue whatsoever about our emotional or sexual selves and we keep it in the closet including many spiritualists. Becoming highly conscious and an authority here, gives you tremendous advantage.

If you're already heavy into spirituality, could adding higher, spiritual levels of uniquely sexual, polarity (yin/yang) and Heart consciousness with powerful, practical tools and training from a master in this area be something that could add value to your life and the lives of your clients? Absolutely!

How about being a master of literally all releasing methods? Of course!

How about when you consider how important feelings and emotions are to their experience and quality of life (something that isn't always spiritual)? You bet!

How about knowing how to work in these areas practically and for tangible results while other coaches just aren't conscious enough there to perform the healing or transformation when your clients still demand results?

But with a lot of mind-focused organizational or 'motivational' life coaches and spiritual guru's out there, where can YOU find such a sexual and emotional 'master' to shortcut your path to mastery levels in this area for undeniable power and results?

I mean more than someone who dilutes, waters down or second-rates the power of Heart and Sexiness while trying to squeeze them into a 'mind' or 'soul' approach to wellness?

Where can you access that level of consciousness without the mere 'references' or 'out of touch-ness' that most of them seem to be coming from? Where can you go to the source and very high levels of sexual and emotional source power?

Where can you have powerful NEW experiential techniques that can do transformational miracles specifically to do with your clients emotional and sexual issues and their potential for healing, growth, transformation, creativity and attraction in life (as well as yours)?

Congratulations, you're here! You've found it.

I'd love to take you personally to levels as a healer or a coach that you never knew were possible with emotional, sexual and spiritual consciousness!

Sexual, polarity and emotional consciousness have largely been untapped for their healing and wellness power in the West and now you can learn directly from me in my special mentorship program for personal and client transformation that reaps infinite benefits in your personal and professional life.

Heart, Yin/Yang Polarity & Sexiness are my specialties and based on very high levels of subjectivity (+over 10,000 hours). While many were valuing Spirituality and generally suppressing or diverting emotional and sexual consciousness, I dove into those areas specifically without intention of becoming so conscious or an authority here (I had other reasons to drive forward).

The short version of my story is that I ended up discovering and founding sexual polarity meditation ('Natural Grounding') as well as a direct 'heart' awakening technique for higher emotional consciousness, releasing and emotional healing that is as powerful yet complementary to EFT/Tapping and Sedona Method.

I bypassed traditional Eastern/Spirituality and instead took a parallel path to the East getting hardcore into the spirituality of yin/yang polarity and Heart/emotional consciousness. I went far far far beyond just living in health & wellness.

While others were in temples, ashrams, or meditation and spa retreats, I was on a different path and discovered the core of feminine/yin energy itself in the unlikeliest of places.

I was the only person I'd ever heard of to take proven Western success and performance conditioning to working with higher and higher levels of sexual and emotional consciousness that easily led to healing, transformation, infinite creative flow, a personal renaissance and much more. And now you can learn from me personally and leverage my experience.

1000s of men around the world have been using Natural Grounding to heal sexual addictions, anxieties and to create natural attraction with women when nothing else worked. And it's all because they're becoming more sexually conscious.

Eventually the practice of what I was doing evolved into what is now called the open source method of 'Self-Awakening' and includes many different energy techniques for directly advancing consciousness, healing, releasing and personal transformation.

I spoke at the leading online dating industry seminar (Man Transformation with Eben Pagan) and have become an authority on sexual attraction teaching and coaching single men for years of sexual and personal transformation.

Now I'm advancing at levels spiritually in months that have taken others decades because I'm already enlightened sexually and very conscious in Heart (which has mostly been inducted during sessions and used personally and professionally for unlimited creative and thought flow so far).

Our recent live events were legendary and just being around my energy when I'm open will transform you.

So if you really want to learn mastery in a new area to compliment your current abilities OR to expand, you know the fastest path is to just learn from one of the absolute BEST in that field and to let their level of consciousness and energy affect yours into a higher reality directly.

You bypass the guessing and 'not knowing' and just soak in until you become a master yourself.

This is what will excel you to mastery without trying to 'figure it out' on your own with your own lack of experience in a new area.

(Experience by the way doesn't include 'time', we just think it does. Subjective experience IS experience' so when you're around a master and you're 'open' to resonancy and soaking in that higher reality, time is not really a factor in the equation).

What you can learn from 1 hour with me would generally be worth 100 hours on your own in the area of Heart or Polarity consciousness and emotional healing. Time spent with me will help advance you very rapidly in this area or if you're already advanced, complement and take things even higher because this work is in very egoless realms.

Oh and I'm literally the ONLY one in the world teaching most of what we cover.

Imagine what a full-on Heart or Sexual Mastery Mentorship Program could do where I take you into the highest levels of emotional and ying/yang polarity consciousness for healing and far beyond health & wellness as well as coaching you personally with how to use the higher energy to release and heal clients.

With your potential clients, the desire for emotional healing and releasing is greater than ever; especially if they're already working hard at it. They just want to call it by a different name (inner game or 'mind').

Higher consciousness is the only resolution. We just have to work with the right kinds of energy for the clients issues and as a coach you already know and respect that.

There isn't a 1 technique solution, so the more tools you have in your arsenal or areas of competence, the more valuable you'll be professionally. Your level of consciousness or subjectivity in those areas is the other big part of the equation. It also means you can work less and make more money.

The desire for sexual attraction and fulfilling relationships is always something in demand. Again, working with the same 'personal', 'mental' or even 'spiritual' tools with different types of conscious energy is a root of why people just aren't experiencing direct and miraculous transformation.

You can provide that level and type of healing after going through a rare opportunity like this mentorship program with me.

You already know a feeling is 1000x more powerful than a thought. Well, those are the levels we're talking about engaging and working on to give them freedom, peace, superzen bliss and happiness even if they've got decades of 'issues' wound up in their entire system.

All that's required is the right type of tools and consciousness for the job at hand and you can have it. When you can expand YOUR toolset to include very spiritual levels of Heart, Polarity & Sexual consciousness like in my personal mentorship program, you'll have much more value, influence, healing power and a cutting edge to attract and keep new clients, get new referrals and make more money.

So why not learn from a master himself to complement your current abilities and skills? Now you can!

Introducing my.....

Sexual & Emotional Healer Mastery Mentorship

---

It's the direct and fastest path possible to some of the highest states of Heart and Yin/Yang Sexual Consciousness in the world and in history. This exact type of training just isn't possible elsewhere because very few are truly dedicated to the spirituality of Heart or Sexuality and enlightenment in those areas.

Plus, with Heart we're not talking about enough to release normal issues, we're talking about power to release impossible levels of blocks in the iciest clients so they HAVE transformation and results even if they've tried everything else before.

Beyond wellness, we're also talking about pure bliss, creativity, happiness and ineffable emotional states that are far beyond normal releasing and healing techniques from experts who primarily value Soul and suppress Heart themselves while still trying to release in that area; we're talking powerful emotion beyond what is normal.

One session with you and they'll also have tools to keep on transforming themselves after you're gone.

But you have to really value Heart itself as part of human consciousness, yours and your clients in order to enter this program. Your Spiritual ego (if you have one), can't get in the way!

You're leveraging my level of consciousness and experience with this to take YOU to levels beyond what you could fathom are even possible and to do it in no other faster way.

Beyond what you can discover in a book, much of it will be mutually experiential where you'll attune to my levels of reality as well as others who are the most conscious in the world.

What's each mentorship program include?

- A minimum of 50 skype video coaching/attuning/awakening credit hours (if you reach mastery before then you can hoard them for later, progressive use)
  - Personalized exercises & assignments
- 5 days worth of live 1-on-1 coaching (you either come to me or cover my expenses to travel though)
  - Specialized resources
- Recordings of all of our sessions (unless unusual circumstances)
  - Whatever else is necessary to get you to mastery

In either track (Sexual or Emotional), included are all the advantages of my other Mentorship program called 'Progressive Coaching'. But you get a LOT more time and relationship with me. If you choose both tracks, you double everything.

Because I have so much experience, wherever you think you're at, there are always higher levels to attain and in the mentoring, I'll take you there.

What this isn't:

- It's not yoga
  - It's not positive thinking
  - It's not physical health & wellness
  - It's not fitness or nutritional shakes
    - It's not natural health foods
- It's definitely NOT goal-planning or schedule organizing
- It's not using mental power or affirmations to transform
  - It's not even regular zen meditation

- It's not anything like you'd think it would be

It's not even a Spiritualists slant (read usually a dilution) on Heart or Sexuality filtered through mind or soul.

This training is coming from the source; the pure, authentic real thing. It's coming from Emotional and Sexual enlightenment and valuation itself which simply entered high spiritual realms and power.

In order to become one of the most conscious in the world yourself in the non-physical wellness arena of heart or sexual consciousness, there is some special work you have to do that is just different. That's also what gives you an advantage over your competition.

You will have to become very experienced in the spirituality of these types of energies. From those levels, healing becomes possible from your energy, subjectivity and influence.

As long as you're qualified and have the resources to invest, I will work with you until you reach mastery in the chosen areas at which point you will be one of the most conscious men or women in Heart and/or Sexual consciousness in the world.

Minimally it would take through 8 months (several hours a month) but may take up to 3 years based on your ability to grow. You will be expected to do the exercises and tasks on your own as well (including applying what I'm giving you and teaching to take into your own Awakening sessions).

As long as you're active and open, I'll keep working with you until I feel that you are truly 'there' and proven in your abilities upon which you can receive certification of some sort from me.

Remember, the personal benefits are that you become healed yourself and massively attractive in these areas of either Heart or sexual consciousness or both. I'll help you release deeper, lifelong issues if you still have any. Through that process you'll know how to do it more for your clients because of your own experientiality.

However I can only take on clients who are serious about opening themselves up to extremely powerful states of reality. You have to have a reason to do this (to get the world's most serious consciousness and energy mentorship training in Heart, Polarity and Sexiness) or you would never change at these levels.

In fact, there are only 3 types of people this program is for and no one else.

1. Energy coaches, life coaches, transformational specialists, energy healers, or the serious spiritualist who wants additional energy and healing tools to expand into this area to help transform other men and women
2. A creative professional who REALLY wants non-stop creative flow like the greatest in history in your chosen outlets; art, music, songwriting, guitar, instrumentalism, architecture, performance, design, production...
3. Someone in complete apathy that nothing has worked to heal them or transform their life and are SERIOUS about quantum personal growth and metamorphosis

If you're one of these people, congratulations!...connecting to the power of Heart and Sexiness with this mentorship program would be the ultimate and best thing you could ever do to explode your reality, attraction and success personally and professionally as these are VERY powerful energies.

It would be 'the' thing and nothing could compare to it in terms of experiential and practical, applied value to your personal and professional life.

Most seek fulfillment emotionally and sexually 'without' and you'll have mastery within.

If you're NOT a creative professional, someone who is in apathy who could use miracles of transformation OR an energy or life coach yourself there is really NO REASON for you to join this immersive program.

You have to be one of those 3 and I'll prequalify you or I can't let you into the program. We do some very uncommon things that are far beyond normal releasing 'techniques'. You have to become familiar with the methodology of Self-Awakening itself or you may be too unfamiliar with what we will cover.

This Mentorship really is meant to get YOU to mastery with Sexual, Polarity or Heart energy connection yourself and to be able to teach it to others or to apply it into professional creative flow. You have to really get beyond your own blocks to really reach those healing levels of power to be able to offer it for your clients.

You must become more emotionally and sexually conscious yourself but this what will set you apart as truly elite in the realm of non-physical healing, transformation, health & wellness.

Along with being one of those 3, this is a pre-requisite because otherwise you won't get the core real value from the training nor be able to massively over-deliver to your clients after the mentorship.

More than just a facilitator for their healing and releasing, you have to live it yourself. YOU must become higher conscious yourself on these levels without diverting from them. You must already be experientially 'clear', zen and healed yourself to truly be worthy as a coach in this area.

It's from your higher experience of reality and consciousness itself that you'll be able to heal them when nothing else has worked and that's the big value of this program; not just some cool new techniques.

I'll of course help you reach those states of oneness of Heart and purer connection to yin and yang energy (where the power and value is really at) but you must truly be ready for it, open and experiencing things you've rarely felt before.

Otherwise for you to reach mastery it could take you a decade of 'working' with releasing techniques to reach the same level of power you could easily with one month of actually resonating yourself in conscious states of Love or Above.

So this is a serious commitment and I have to be sure you're open to it because a lot of this work in the mentorship is doing more mastery exercises on your own.

If you just want some releasing techniques without being very conscious yourself, go ahead and watch as your clients get 'some' value as you're the same as other coaches.

What this program offers is mastery and resonating on very high levels of emotional and sexual polarity consciousness. Again, it's not like traditional meditation; it's a new realm and type of power to work with here so that you can give more value to more people in your life personally and professionally (oh and it really helps the Law of Attraction as your own personal energy & health as well).

The more zen and free from spiritual ego you already are, the faster you'll be able to progress to mastery in this mentorship.

As you can imagine the personal benefits are out of this world and priceless but to get there you have to do special training outside of the condition of the ego AND the Soul. You have to have a reason beyond yourself (unless you're candidate #3).

Both reasons 1 and 2 require you to value something well beyond yourself to even begin working with this level of power and path.

If you're not ready for the full package of both tracks, you can also choose separately the Sexual & Polarity Mastery Mentorship or the Emotional/Heart Mastery Mentorship.

You'll never learn this in a University. Universities are about higher education in what area of consciousness? Mentally and usually in general or specialized fields of application professionally.

This is professional application working with sexual and emotional energy instead of mental. It's a specialized set of real, world practical tools, training and application.

This is like the Harvard tutorship with a leading expert in 2 different areas of conscious experience entirely. So what's the tuition of your investment?

The tuition is $27,500 for either the

Sexual & Yin/Yang Polarity Healing Mastery Mentorship

or the Heart/Emotional Healing Mastery Mentorship

At a discount, it's $50,000 for both and we can work them simultaneously into your schedule but so that you retain credit hours for each track.

If you want a production output focus for one of the tracks instead of Healing or Coaching, we can dive into professional audio, music, graphics or video production. We'd focus more on induction of the energy and your consciousness for unlimited creative flow.

You will progress throughout the training and mentoring so that you can apply new knowledge to your practice likely all of the time.

Your tuition includes full healing of all of your own sexual and emotional issues, blocks and anxieties (if you still have any and we'll most likely find them anyways).

I'll help you through this as we transform your own consciousness on these levels and at progressively higher levels.

Due to the time investment, tuition is non-refundable.

If you're ready or seriously interested, contact me with your interest and we'll do a complimentary 45 minute skype video session so I can gauge your energy and intent as well as make sure this is a good fit for you and other pre-qualifications.

Then we can proceed with setting up a payment plan that works for you. It doesn't have to be all upfront.

-Rion

p.s. Got any other questions? Interested? Want a payment plan, just let me know by emailing rimon@self-awakening.com

:::::Want more information on becoming an expert in these areas?:::::

Let's look further into the unmet needs and emerging sub-markets for this new era in which you could stand out as a leader authority in.

For women: Beyond beauty products and 'looking' feminine, millions of women are experientially out of touch with their yin energy and sexual consciousness but they still want to 'be' beautiful. They want to be complete and feel completely beautiful, not just to be seen as objects.

Some of your potential clients try to make up for it MORE with cover-up, make-up and sexier clothing but still feel unappreciated, jaded and unable to feel valued as a woman. All the pressure of the social culture and image conformity makes them even more disconnected from their true sexual and spiritual identity and self.

The next level and emerging opportunity is working not even more on external image and beauty but on INTERNAL beauty. It's working 'within' on her sexual energy and total consciousness and subjectivity itself.

And it's working on more powerful levels directly with your clients in those areas of consciousness to have true and authentic transformation that reconnects her with her essence without acting it, but feeling and living it.

That doesn't just mean spiritually it means sexually in her energy with her relationship to the masculine/yang energy. This is a big bulk of what's missing; in fact it's literally non-existent in the West yet primordially important and can do massive transformational work in short sessions if you were conscious enough in this area.

Working with her internal beauty not just spiritually or with yoga, but on her polarity, sexual and Heart consciousness is an area for massive, massive transformation and healing after years of social oppression, social conformity pressure, adaptation and disconnection from her true essence and happiness.

It's really a different experience and dimension of work altogether. And it's also a bridge for female clients who aren't ready to bridge over into a more spiritual side just yet; if you would be able to directly with in this area with emotional, sexual and polarity consciousness for healing, releasing and transformation.

Unfortunately there are not too many men who are very conscious in the West. The misunderstandings of sexuality run rampant with false ideals, image and advertising creating more confusion and disconnection between the sexes.

Good intention is honorable but to have real healing and influence on these levels it takes more connection, experience and power

.....

Ready to get started or set up your free consultation?

Just email me if you're serious about it or have questions:

rion@self-awakening.com

And I look forward to hearing from you soon! Yes these rates will rise as the demand grows, etc.

-Rion Freeberg